Public Health Crisis Housing Addendum:

New York Tech is committed to protecting the health and safety of our students and minimizing the potential spread of disease within our community. As a resident within New York Tech housing, the 2014 Novel Coronavirus ("COVID") or similar public health crisis will impact your housing experience as New York Tech Residence Life continues to make public health-informed decisions. The below policies and guidelines are incorporated into this contract and are applicable to all residential students. As always, we will endeavor to update you with timely information about specific health and safety guidance important for our residential students.

1. Health and Safety. We expect that all members of the New York Tech residential community—residents, staff and visitors—act in a manner that demonstrates respect and consideration for those around them, including respect and consideration for the health and safety of all community members. All residential students are prohibited from creating a health or safety hazard within New York Tech Housing and New York Tech may request or require a resident to leave New York Tech Housing if their continued presence in the housing community poses a health or safety risk for community members. Residential students are required to comply with health and safety laws, orders, ordinances, regulations and health and safety guidance adopted by New York Tech as it relates to public health crises, including COVID-19. This guidance will evolve as the public health crisis evolves and may include, but is not limited to, social distancing, limitations on mass gatherings, wearing a face covering, COVID-19 diagnostic and surveillance testing (including before or upon arrival to campus), contact tracing, disinfection protocols, limitations on guests into residence halls, and quarantine / isolation requirements (including before or upon arrival to campus). Adherence to health and safety requirements applies to all residents, staff and visitors and extends to all aspects of residential life, including bedrooms, bathrooms, community kitchens, lounges, computer rooms, courtyards and other common spaces.
2. Quarantine/Isolation/Separation. At any time, New York Tech may request or require a resident to leave New York Tech Housing when that resident’s continued presence in the housing community poses a health or safety risk for community members. Residential students are required to comply with requests from New York Tech Housing to leave their assigned space due to COVID-19 or other public health emergency and failure to do so is a violation of this contract and may subject a student to emergency removal from their assigned space. Not all New York Tech Housing residential rooms or halls are appropriate for self-quarantine or self-isolation, for example, and in those situations where a student is recommended to self-quarantine or self-isolate, students may not be permitted to continue residing in their residential space and will be provided alternative housing arrangements as needed. Removal from New York Tech Housing to isolate or quarantine does not constitute a termination of a residential student’s housing contract.
3. De-Densifying Efforts. Residential students are required to comply with any de-densifying efforts needed on campus due to COVID-19 or other public health emergency, including, but not limited to, the relocation of all or some residential students to alternative housing. Relocation does not constitute a termination of a residential student’s housing contract. In the event New York Tech Housing must relocate students as part of a de-densifying strategy due to public health concerns for an extended period of time and alternative housing is not available, New York Tech will offer impacted students fair and reasonable reimbursement as appropriate and based on information available at that time.
4. Dining Services. Dining service, including where and how it will be offered to residential students, is subject to the discretion of New York Tech and is subject to modification to address public health concerns. Due to health and safety guidance New York Tech Campus Dining, or other institutions/eateries where your meal plan is valid, may limit the occupancy of dining halls, limit the amount of time students may reside within dining halls or make other operational adjustments needed to address health and safety concerns.
5. Cleaning. New York Tech Residence Life will continue to implement and modify its cleaning protocols to address COVID-19 or other public health emergency in the interest of minimizing the spread of disease. Residence Life will educate and inform residential students on appropriate cleaning protocols within their assigned spaces to reduce the spread of contagious viruses, including COVID-19, within residence halls.
6. Termination. Upon reasonable notice, New York Tech reserves the right to terminate housing contracts due to public health emergency needs, including COVID-19. In the event New York Tech terminates housing contracts due to public health concerns, New York Tech will offer fair and reasonable reimbursements for impacted students as appropriate and based on information available at that time. In the event of a conflict between this Section and the remaining sections of this contract, this Section will apply.

Hold Harmless:

You agree to release New York Tech, its trustees, agents, and employees from any and all damages, liability, claims, expenses, or loss (collectively, “claims”) resulting from or arising out of your use of space within New York Tech Housing, including those related to the potential exposure to contagious viruses like the coronavirus, and to indemnify and hold harmless New York Tech, its agents, and employees from any claims resulting from or arising out of your breach of the terms and conditions of your housing contract. You understand that by residing in New York Tech Housing, you are assuming the risks associated with communal living and, as in any shared living environment, those risks include potential exposure to contagious viruses, including the coronavirus.
