Office of Financial Aid

In accordance with 34 CFR 600.32 - Eligibility of Additional Locations, 34 CFR 668.39 – Student Eligibility in Study-Abroad Programs, 34 CFR 668.5 – Arrangements with a Study-Abroad Organization, New York Institute of Technology offers a Study Abroad program as a part of a contractual/consortium agreement between two or more schools. The study abroad program does not have to be a required part of the eligible program at the home school for the student to be eligible to receive FSA funds, but the credits earned through the study-abroad or exchange program must apply toward graduation in the student’s program at the home school.
