Zoom provides high definition video-conferencing on demand. It supports up to 25 participants, all with video streams, and includes support for audio and chat, as well as a teleconference option for participants who do not have a webcam.

You can access Zoom on any platform: Windows, Mac, Android, iOS, Blackberry. Only the person originating the meeting needs an account – other participants can join directly from the web, without having a zoom account.

Meetings can be on demand or scheduled in advance. Everyone has the ability to share their computer screen (even from a mobile device), or share a single application. Meetings can be recorded and are saved in .mp4 format.
