

Master of Energy Management (MEM)

The Master of Energy Management program at the New York Institute of Technology - Vancouver (NYIT) is dedicated to providing students with the requisite skills they need to help address energy-related challenges around the world and become leaders in energy management technologies, policies and procedures. Students graduate ready to apply innovative energy management methodologies to help corporations, governments, and organizations meet their climate change commitments. The MEM program is designed to be congruent with B.C.'s energy policies, while also providing students a national and international perspective.

Highlights

- The 3 elective courses can be taken with a combination of technical Energy Management related courses as well as M.B.A. courses, giving students the ability to tailor their studies.
- The degree offers an applied curriculum with a strong emphasis on student projects.
- Students have the opportunity to transfer between New York and Vancouver campuses.
- Financial aid is available to Canadian Citizens and Permanent Residents of Canada.
- Career planning services are available on campus to all students.
- International students are eligible to work off campus (max. 20 hrs/week) during their studies and can qualify for post-graduation work permits (up to three (3) years) after graduation.

The NYIT-Vancouver MEM Program

The curriculum is comprised of 30 credits and is divided into two (2) groups: a required fundamental core of seven (7) courses and three (3) contextualized and applications-oriented elective courses. Each course is three (3) credit hours. Additionally, international students must take a 0 credit-hour Technical Communications course for a total of 30 credits.

Intakes & Duration

There are three (3) terms in every academic year; Fall (15 wks, Sep.–Dec.), Spring (15 wks, Jan.–Apr.), and Summer (8 wks, May–Jul.). MEM is a two (2) year program, but strong students can complete it in less than two years.
