

Master of Energy Management (MEM)

The Master of Energy Management program at New York Institute of Technology - Vancouver (New York Tech) provides students with the requisite skills they need to help address global energy-related challenges, becoming energy management leaders. Students graduate ready to apply innovative energy technologies, policies and management methodologies to help corporations, governments, and organizations meet their climate change commitments. The MEM program is designed to be congruent with B.C.'s energy policies, while also providing students a national and international perspective.

Highlights

- Elective courses can be taken with a combination of technical Energy Management related courses as well as MBA courses, giving students the ability to tailor their studies.
- The degree offers an applied curriculum with a strong emphasis on student projects.
- Students have the opportunity to transfer between New York and Vancouver campuses.
- Financial aid is available to Canadian Citizens and Permanent Residents of Canada.
- Career planning services are available on campus to all students.
- International students are eligible to work off campus during their studies and can qualify for post-graduation work permits (up to three (3) years) after graduation.

The New York Tech Vancouver MEM Program

The curriculum is comprised of 30 credits and is divided into two (2) groups: a required fundamental core of seven (7) courses and three (3) contextualized and applications-oriented elective courses. Each course is three (3) credit hours. Additionally, international students must take a 0 credit-hour Graduate Communications course for a total of 30 credits.

Accreditation/Consent

This program is offered in Vancouver, Canada under the written consent of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills in British Columbia. In the United States, New York Institute of Technology is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. See here: <https://admin.bceqa.gov.bc.ca/report/> →
